FRENCH TROPICAL Fever and Ague

A certain Cure for Fever and Ague, Remittent and Intermittent Fever, and all Billious Complaints.

It is a well known fact that the different fevers and billious complaints are caused by the poisonous miasma and exhalations from the surface of the earth, which are taken into the system by respiration. To neutralise this subtlepoison and counteract its effect upon the system, is therefore what we have to aim at, and with this view the "French Tropical Fever and Ague Mixture" has been prepared. MAD. VARIAN JAMES' CONCERT .- This accoun dished vocalist was greeted last night by a small udience, owing to other attractions, which drew our citizens in other directions. But we are sure those who were present felt themselves amply repaid for their attendance, in the delightful music which entranced every listener. If the lovers of harmony in Louisville but knew what a rich treat Mad. James offers in her programme, the hall would have been crowded to repletion.

Mad. James has a brilliant mezzo soprano voice, pure in quality, and remarkably truthful in intentation. Indeed, sha is superior in this respect to the memory of the ene for his patriotism, his wisdom and the unrestrained purity of his life. We prize the possession of the other as the only hope of National liberty."

4. Disunion—"Political disgrace to the man who shall make patriotism a lever to his ambition, and feels his country's greatness absorbed in his own."

nation. Indeed, she is superior in this respect to either of the Prima Donnas of the Italian troupe re ently with us. She has evidently given years of patient and severe study to the "divine art," having been educated in the pure Italian school. Her high notes, though slightly thin, are given without any apparent effort.

Mr. Cooke is possessed of an excellent tenor voice of good compass, and he sang his songs, &c., in fine taste. His "Spirto gentil" was perfect gam.

We sincerely trust our readers will not deprive nemselves of the delightful entertainment offered this evening. Mad. James is one of the best voocalists we have ever heard, and is well deservng the patronage of the public. Let her not ave us under the impression that we cannot apeciate real talent unless preceded by inordinate affing. Let her have a full house to-night, and ur word for it, all who hear will go home full of delight, and ready to confess that we have had but few such vocalists in this city as Mrs. James.

MERRIMAN'S CLOAK, SHAWL AND MANTILLA STORE This establishment, located on Fourth street, etween Main and Market, has only been open a few weeks, but has already secured quite a liberal share of patronage. The store room is arranged with great taste, and the show windows are exceedingly attractive. The interior of the estabshment, especially of evenings, presents quite a rilliant appearance. The opera cloaks, the hawls, &c., are displayed to very great advanage, and few ladies examine them without a spesition to purchase. Next week the Agricultural Fair comes off, the Mechanics' Institute will se in a blaze of fashion and gaity, and the Theater will be crowded with the grace and beauty o he city, and those who do not wish to be outone, need only to go to Merriman's and make heir purchases. Nothing sets off a handsome ady so much as a magnificent cloak or shawl, and, therefore, ladies bestow so much care in their purchase. Our lady friends in need of these articles will do well to give Mr. Merriman a call, examine his goods, and we are right sure they will be suited. And gentlemen who wish to take their wives look handsome, and who of us on't have a pride in the looks of our wife, would o well to present them with a beautiful cloak or shawl. It would not only gratify and please them, but add greatly to their appearance. Now s the best time to make purchases; the gay season is coming on, Merriman's is daily crowded, and those who wish to get the choice articles should

The first questien that occurred to him was, what should say? It was suggested to him to speak on politics. But how? He was gratified that this task was rendered less difficult to him from the fact that Gov. Magoffin, in his able inaugural, has said much which met his approval, and which men of all parties could endorse.—Judge Nicholas then alluded to Gov. Magoffin's views, as set forth in his inaugural, and declared views, as set forth in his inaugural, and declared that he gave expression to the sentiments of the people of this State, when he declared that they people of this Stare, when he declared that they entered their solemn protest against the reopening of the slave trade. He then spoke of the rapidly increasing slave population, and feared that the time would arrive when it would be a serious question how to keep them in subjection.— It is a dark picture, that Spartan plan of ridding a nation of a dangerous element in its population, but must be looked full in the face. If this country would heartily co-operate with France and England in the suppression of the African slave trade, the United States might then export its slaves, and Jamaica and other countries might derive from Jamaica and other countries might derive from us their slaves. He spoke of this question at length, but we cannot at this late hour give a full eport of his remarks. He remarked that Gov. Magoffin had truly said

That disunion would produce scenes of desolation horrible to contemplate—our cities would be desolated, and Kentucky would, in that event, indeed become the "Dark and Bloody He then spoke of the spirit of disunionism in the cotton growing States, and of their efforts to compel Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri to go with them. At an adjourned meeting of citizens of Jefferson ounty, held in Jeffersontown, on Saturday, the

Under this continent arrangement the parties got along very well for some time, until one night an unusual wakefulness seized upon the husband, perhaps from the absence of his wife, perhaps at the instigation of the devil. A strange, rustling, muffled sort of sound attracted his ear in the silence of the widdle watch and straining his evesight to the niddle watch, and, straining his eyesight to the utmost, he could almost swear that he saw through the gloom a dark form creep in at the open door of the room, and glide slowly along the floor to the mosquito bar that covered his unconscious and sleeping spouse. He cautiously arose in his bed, and armed himself with the only weapon he could lay his hands on—the headboard, which he happened to know could be removed from its place between the posts—and then sprang at the couch on the floor, giving vent to a loud, explosive oath, and dealing a random blow at the musquito bar in the same instant. The sleeping lady leaped up in alarm, just in time to receive a severe thump on the head, while a bedily shape of some sort, in very primitive costume, scudded through the room to the door, along the hall and down the stairs, with the infuriated husband, similarly attired, in close pursuit. One can fancy what dire, alarm and confusion must be created in a large house, full of people, by the silence of midnight being broken in this style—the sounds of a furious scuffle in an upper room, a headlong rush down the stairs, and then blows, curses, and cries of murder. It may be as well to state, however, that although the actual culprit slipped out amidst the tumult and regained his own room, he did not escape discovery, and the story of his flying leap down stairs and through the window made him an object of such general attention that he sought another boardgeneral attention that he sought another boarding house the next day. A Temporizing Policy. The Democratic party is based on principle and one of its chief merits in the past has been that it has never been a temporizing party-tha it has never "trimmed to suit the times." Planted on principles, it has followed them to their legical conclusions, despite the clamors of time servers and demagogues. It has not inquired whether a measure was popular or uspopuler.

But recently, we observe a spirit manifested, which, if it once obtains control, will drag down the Democracy to the level of the miserable isms of the day. In some sections of the country there is a disposition shown to pander to sectional fanaticism, and to sacrifice the distinctive and essential principles of our party to secure a mere temporary success. The history of parties shows most clearly that a temporizing policy is at best short sighted. It may achieve a present success, but there will be no permanency in it, and no party which has pursued it has been able, for any length of time, to maintain a distinctive organization. One after another parties based on mere temporary measures have arisen and passed away, and we should profit by their example.

The results of a temporizing policy are demor alizing in the extreme. The members of a party begin to lose all confidence in correct principles they begin to regard political contests as a mere scramble for office, and often lose confidence in the integrity and purity of our public men.

We are already seeing the effects of this tempo rizing policy in the North. So long as the Democracy fought Abolitionism "on the square" they conquered it. But when the leaders of our party began to waver and temporize and "carry water on both shoulders," the party became demoralized and we were defeated; and we now retain the ascendency in only a few Northern States, where the Democracy have neither asked nor given quarter to the Black Republicans.

Already have we seen the indications of this temporizing policy developing itself in a growing disposition to secure success, even at the sacrifice of of principle. Men who but a few months ago were regarded with distrust, and scouted from he party, now attempt to dictate to and control it, and it is expected that the Democracy, though at present disinclined, will soon, by its readiness to embrace any leader, forcibly illustrate the famil-

Meanwhile, stream of cold water is flooded onto you, and : and dressed in black thrusts a snuff-box in front f your nose, and all at once you begin to sneeze ociferously, and the eager crowd begins to laugh and hurrah. Shoving you further along, the chief men and bottle-washers grab you by the nose, hair and coat tail, and in this way rip every bit of dry goods loose from your person, and again the crowd roar with tumultuous laughter at o your hair and toes, forcing you up a soaped pole with pins and sharp sticks. You now begin to think you are forsaken by all of God's people, and the devil has certainly got possession of you, knocking you on the head so that you see stars as numerous as they are in the milky-way. You are nandied in this kind of tantalizing way for two hours, when the officers give you a large dose of iverwort and tar, and then let you go. Fun!

AN EAGLE BEATEN BY CROWS .- A correspondent the New York Journal of commerce, writing om Geneva, August 25th, says that on the 19th of that month a remarkable sight was seen on the east side of Seneca Lake, opposite Geneva. About nine in the morning a large eagle was seen over a wood on the edge of the lake, vigorously pursued by three crows, two of which were frequently pecking at his back. This assault continued for netime, the eagle all the time trying to escape in them, in which he finally succeeded, and got high up in the air, when the crows gave up the cursuit and returned to their wood. Soon after ursuit and returned to their wood. Soon after mother eagle (probably his mate) came from a wood up the lake, when the higher one swooped down and joined it, and they both flew off towards the south, and neither party were seen afterwards. The crows had probably a nest of their young. and had courageously defended it, and pursu the eagle that came alone. Compared with the eagle, they looked as much smaller as the king-bird is smaller than the crow, which he is sometimes seen to attack in a similar way, and proba bly for a similar reason. But this is the first in-stance I have ever known of any bird having the Antonelli, whose office at the Vatican is directly above the Pope's room, is really the Pope. He is a man of 45 years of age, active, shrewd, clever, with a good address and engaging manners, and works all the time, like a politician as he is.—Temporal affairs occupy him soiely; he knows and cares little for anything beside. Religion he eaves entirely to the professors of it."

Douglas and bis prospects:

I am not and never have been a supporter of Mr. Douglas for the Presidency. His views upon popular or "squatter" sovereignty in the Territories, as set forth in his late contribution to Harper's Magazine, as well as in his public speeches, I regard as at war with the fundamental principles of the federal government; and I do not be heve that they will leave him a "corporal's guard" of supporters at the South.

Accidentally Poisoned.—We regret to learn that Willie, a little child of Geo. W. Maupin's, residing near Kingston, in this county, accidentally came to his death, on Friday last, by poison. He was at the daguerrean room of Mr. J. J. Allen, who was engaged in taking the child's miniature, and between the intervals of sitting, Willie got hold of a bottle of nitrate of silver, swallowing a good portion of its contents. Death ensued in a few moments. He was in his third year.—

A WORD TO THE WISE .- The people are aware that D. O'Hare, No. 427 Main street, is the oldthe world. We append a list of fifteen monsters est, largest, and most experienced manufacturer LOUISVILLE COURIER PRINTING COMPANY. of the deep that, without bowsprit, would cover of trunks and similar articles in the city. They a space one mile in length, were they placed in should avail themselves of the rare opportunities afforded by Mr. O'Hare. To the country and city merchants he offers peculiar advantages in his wholesale department, while in the retail line he cannot be equalled. Whoever wants to travel, whether with a small carpet bag or a mammeth trunk, need go no further than the great Western factory of Mr. O'Hare. His manufactory is a credit to Louisville, and should meet with extensive patronage. As a matter of home pride, and to subserve economy, purchasers will consult their best interest in purchasing of Mr. D. O'Hare. Remember, that the United States Prize Medal was awarded to D. O'Hare for the best trunks made.

Vulcanite Base for Artificial Teeth has been thoroughly tested and used in Eastern cities for the last four years, and proved, beyond a doubt, to be the best substitute ever used as a base for sets of teeth.

It possesses the following advantages over metalic plates : It is not more than half the weight of metal, is indestructible and perfectly cleanly .-The absolute certainty of fitting the mouth renders the old form of plate unnecessary, doing away with more than half the width, getting a better fit, and not at all impairing the taste, as is the case where the whole of the mouth is covered with a plate .-Its extreme lightness renders it particularly adapted to filling out sunken portions of the face. To those who are wearing sets that they cannot eat with, we would say that if they will give us a trial we will guarantee them teeth with which they can eat and wear with ease and comfort. Please call at our office on Fifth street, next door to the Cathedral, and examine specimens. All other dental operatious carefully performed

BY TELEGRAPH.

From New York. New York, Sept. 15.—The New York papers this morning are filled with reports of and comments on the doings of the State Democratic Convention held at Syracuse yesterday. The Herald, in an editorial, uses the following language.

guage:

"The treachery of the Albany Regency to Henry A. Wise has brought forth its appropriate fruit. The fraud has been consummated at Syracuse, by a vote to appoint delegates to the Charleston Convention. The Democrats of this State have thus been treated with contempt, and, instead of being permitted to select the men they wished to represent them in the National Convention to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, tion to nominate a candidate for the Presidency, the Albany Regency, consisting of Cassidy, Cagger, Comstock, Corning, Richmond & Co., have taken the selection out of their hands and arranged it themselves. Certain it is that the dissatisfaction among the Democracy of this State at forestalling them in the appointment of delegates to Charleston will be such that it will demoralize the party and cause thousands to remain away from the polls in the fall elections. Thus will the proverb be realized in politics as well as in other things, that honesty is the best well as in other things, that honesty is the best policy, and a heavy retribution will be visited upon the heads of the Albany clique. They have sown the wind and they will yet reap the whirl-

The Times concludes that this is merely the first step towards a split in the party, but it has been so very badly managed that the split is likely to be a very trifling affair. Mr. Woods' impetuosity seems to have overborne his shrewdness. It was generally understood that he had resolved upon running for Mayor this fall with or without the regular nomination. This last movement has not increased his chances of success here in getting that nomination or doing without it. It may be seriously doubted now whether he can draw off votes enough from the regular ticket to give the Republicans any chance of electing their can-

Gen. Scott's opinion is considered absolutely necessary by the President. The Administration is a good deal exercised in regard to the present aspect of affairs growing out of the seizure of the island of San Juan. jel dtf Sore Throat Plague and Sore Throat .- This quality of seizing hold and causing the expulsion of depraved humors, is possessed by no other medicine than Bran-

DRETE'S PILLS. They operate only upon the tissues involved in, that is affected by the disease. In fact, they seize upon those humors, and not so much from preference as from natural affinity, because their life is below that of the surrounding parts, and which, settling on the tissues of the throat, that is, around the throat region, produces sore throat, sore throat plague, and the severe headache and fever. Within an hour after HARTFORD FIRE INSURANCE our or six pills are taken there is felt a peculiar creepng in the part affected, a sort of collecting up of the diseased humors ready for expulsion. No hurt or weakening effect can ever arise from their use, because they cannot act upon healthy parts. Taken early they prevent all organic diseases. Oh how important in sickness, to use that medicine which only extinguishes the disease, and leaves no evil effects behind.

NEW TRIUMPHS OF THE GREAT
SKIN PURIFIER.
Messrs. ANSON BAKER & CO., Importers of Perfumery and Toilet Goods, No. 47 Warren street, New York, writes, respecting PALMER'S VEGETABLE COS-METIC LOTION, under date of July 18, 1859:

"An acquaintance of ours has been cured by it of Ecema on both legs and feet, after having been preounced incurable by physicians in and out of the Hos ital. The writer has also been oured of the same trouole, after having tried everything he could think of for eighteen months."

No person can appreciate this Lotion until he has tried it or seen it tried. Every kind of eruption of the face, head, limbs, or other parts of the person, whether of a scaly, watery or pustulous character, are removed at once by its use, while a single application cures the bites of musketces, gnats, bugs, the stings of bees, &c. As a liniment, both for man and beast, its virtues are equally remarkable, one application often doing more good than the continued use of the best liniments of the day for weeks and even months.

THE tailure of Iron as a rem dy for disorganized blood, ha arisen from the want of some preparation of it that will assimilate with that vitel fluid. This need the PERUVIAN SYRUP supplies, and in the only form in which it is possible for Iron to enter the circulation. For the same reason, the class of diseases PERUVIAN SYRUP radically cures are precisely those which the usual remedies merely relieve; among which are:

Dyspepsia, Dropsies, Neuralgia, Bronchitis, Consumption Tendencies, Colorless, Blood Boils, Skin Diseases, St. Vitus

THE RIVER continues falling slowly, but stead The River continues failing slowly, but steadily, with two feet five inches water in the canal, last evening, by the mark. During the previous 24 hours the river, at the head of the falls, had reded one inch, equal to about three inches at Portland. The water has been steadily receding at the rate of an inch in 24 hours, for several days and our reports can be relied on as they are made from actual daily observation, and not quessed. The weather was clear and pleasant all day, ugh quite cloudy in the morning. The river, at Pittsburg, is unchanged, with 11 inches water reported at Glasshouse, some 14 ches at Buffington, 16 at Marietta, and of course few boats navigating above Portsmouth, or even beyond Cincinnati.

Between this port and Cincinnati, Warsaw con times to be the shadest point, with but three feet water reported on the bar. The mail boats manage to rub through without detention, but the Mariner, which arrived last evening, reports the Jesse K. Bell and Caroline hard aground, the former having the appearance of being laid up on the bar. They left Cincinnati on Wednesday. The Poland, which arrived from Owensboro, esterday morning, reports meeting no boats

Chidester, Rapiep & Co., of the mail service, are negotiating for the purchase of the Ir dian, a little side waeeler, to make a short con nection with her between their mail coaches in the Arkansas river country. Six of the crew of the Hiawatha, who deserted

The other is the John C. Calhoun, a side wheel er, to run on the Chatahooche river, between Apalachicola, Fia., and Columbus, Ga. She is 15 feet long on deck, 24 feet beam, and 5 feet hold. FOR St. Louis .- The light Mariner, in charge of our clever friend, Henry Devinney, a popul and careful boatman, takes her departure to Louis, this morning, at 10 o'clock, from the city wharf. Passengers will find the Mariner, under the guidance of Capt. Devinney, to be a safe and comfortable craft to travel on, as he never fails to give satisfaction. Passengers for Cairo and way places, or Memphis, and even New Orleans, can be accommodeted by the Mariner. The E. A. Ogden cleared for St. Louis last

She is to be a fair sample of the skill and handiwork of our mechanics, an out and out and handiwork of our mechanics, an out and out Louisville built and Louisville owned boat, and with her Capt. OFFICE LOUISVILLE COURIER. The Money Market continues very tight, and Eastern Exchange is selling at % to % premium, the former being the Rank rates. Time bills on all points are uni for mly the same as our last report. There is no change in the Money Market at Cincinnati, Eastern Exchange being scarce at % premium.

At St. Louis there is a scarcity of bankable funds and surrency, and Eastern Exchange is scarce and very firm at % premium. Currency is more abundant at Chicago, and Exchange closer. The stock of Gold there is Umited, with the speedy appearch of a heavy denand. The Press and

Tribune says:

Some of our heaviest Banks were to-day obliged to put off customers, who wanted large drafts, till next week. Customers only are supplied at current rates, and sparingly at that and outsiders may consider themselves fortunate if they find what they need at 1½. It seems with the return of exchange at 1 per cent., the demand has largely increased. Payments of Western dealers and others have, by consent, been deferred for several months, till exchange came down to living rates. This was unsversally beneficial, as money was plenty at the Esst, and creditors were glad to receive Western rates of interest. The Western creditor was accommodated, for the rates of exchange were enormous. As soon as exchange came down to 1 per cent. Western men have been busy in paying these obligations. We have heard of several new banks about to start, and the stocks to start them must be paid for in exchange, increasing the demand by that much.

BY TELEGRAPH.

From Philadelphia PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 15.—Ex-Senator Cooper has written an interesting letter in response to an application from a committee of Philadelphians or his opinion relative to the movement at the last session of Congress for an increase of the existing rates of postage. He says no measure of public policy adopted by the government since its foundation has ever met with such universal acceptance as the reduction of the rates of postage. All sections, all classes of the country united in expressing their approval of this wise and benemeasure. Its effect was to quicken intellect ual activity, promote public prosperity, facilitate intercourse between those whom distance separates, thus ministering to the sentiments of friend-ship and kindred, as well as to the advantage and convenience of those engaged in the various occupations of life. If anything were wanted to prove how strongly the people of the land are wedded to cheap post age, it would be found in the favor with which a large majority of them received the defeat of the Postoffice bill at the last session of Congress. While no people in the world are more averse than ours to any act on the part of their repre-sentatives, tending to discredit or degrade the Government, or arrest any of its departments in the discharge oi their constitutional functions, the defeat of the postage bill was, nevertheless, hailed with general satisfaction; for, inasmuch as the provisions of the defeated bill were designed to increase the rate of postage, the authors of its defeat, instead of encountering the execrations of their constituents, almost everywhere re The weather for the last day or two has been cold, all ceived their plaudits, although the Postoffice department, during the whole of a large recess, was left without means to carry on its business. recommends the alteration of the present law so as to allow of the sale of stamped envelopes at the price now paid for postage stamps, and adds the only argument, as has already been shown, against a reduction, is that after applying the whole of the revenue derived from the presage to the Corn and Potato crop. It says that the Pota-toes are all killed, and scarcely a field of Corn can be found that was not greatly injured, and many hundred supplied from the customs and other sources. This is undoubtedly a fact, but it is a poor argument against a reduction of the rates of postage. If any difficulty existed in raising an amount of venue sufficient for all the legitimate purp of Government, including the deficit in the Post-office Department, or if such amount could not be raised without detriment to the interests of the country, the argument would be plausible, if not a conclusive one, but when it is shown that, by a proper discriminating system of duties on foreign merchandise, an amount of revenue sufficient can easily be raised, without detriment to commerce or any other in-terests, the argument is stripped of all its force; and, at this moment, when, in consequence of the too great reduction of duties and the unwise principle on which they are levied, the domestic nterests of the country are suffering from the flood of imports poured in upon us from abroad, it is quite manifest that so far from being injured by an increase of duties, such increase would be a means, and perhaps the only means of avoiding another great commercial revulsion, threatened by the enormous amount of our forthreatened by the enormous amount or our for-eign indebtedness. My views on this subject were fully expressed a few months since in an ad-dress delivered in this city to the iron master's association. The iron trade of the United States, one of the most important, and destined, under a wise and judicious policy, to outstrip, in magnitude, every other interest of this country, is, at the present, depressed and paralyzed, under a sys-tem of low duties, levied on a principle which is ude, every other interest of this co obnoxious to the objection that it leads to the perpetration of fraud, and affords the least amount, both of duties and protection, when both are

That an interest so vast, so material in its haracter, and on the prosperity and extension of which the commercial supremacy of the country depends, should not only be disregarded and over-looked, but viewed with an eye of jealous distrust by those whose national pride should induce to protect it, is an evidence of unworthy and narrow prejudice which sometimes blinds men, who in ther respects are just and liberal. In the great race for commercial dominion we are already treading on the heels of Great Britain, and it is a most encouraging fact that if the present value of her exports in iron were sub-tracted from the aggregate of her foreign com-merce and added to that of the United States, the superiority would belong to the latter. In this contest whether commercial and political supremacy shall remain with England or be transferred to the United States, will depend in a great measure on the policy of our own govern-ment. Let Congress, then, use the power with which the Constitution has clothed it, to foster and encourage our industry. Let the govern-ment continue the policy introduced by the late Secretary of the Treasury, Mr. Guthrie, to dis-criminate in favor of American manufactures, in the disbursements, as well as in the collection of 12% c for sides. Sugaris in fair demand at full prices; the disbursements, as well as in the collection of the public revenue. Let the weired spirit of sectional discord be quenched and a just, liberal and national legislative policy be pursued, and there will be an end of those periodical revulsions occo

The shares of the concern sold a short time By pressing such a policy, the Government will avoid the struggle with difficulties incident to an empty Treasury. It will be partments which receive animation and support to longer execrated for withholding from the public creditor his just dues, nor be a constant of the country at large we hear of only a moderate demand. The late demand, how is constant of the country at large we hear of only a moderate demand. ound in an organized league of the suffering in-

That a properly organized league of the suffering interests, or combination of those whose interests are neglected, would have power to cor-rect the evil, can scarcely be doubted by any one acquainted with the extent of the influence they are capable of exercising. The iron interest alone holds the balance of power between the political parties both in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, and, in certain contingencies, in several other States as well as in a number of Congres-sional districts in various parts of the Union. In my address to the Iron Masters' Association already referred to, I recommended the or-ganization of such a league, in view of the appli-cation then about to be made to Congress for an increase of duty on iron, and a change in the mode of assessment. The recommendation, though received with favor by some of the members of the association, was not acted on, nor was any increase of the duty secured.

A committee of gentlemen amongst the most distinguished and intelligent of the State, possessing a large share of influence, were dispatched to Washington for the purpose of procuring the desired legislation. For a while they were flattered with the hope of accomplishing something, but inasmuch as they relied on the justice of their cause and the unanswerable character of the arguments by which they were able to sup-port it, disavowing all design on the part of their constituents of any attempt to remedy the evils complained of by resorting to an exercise of the political influence they were capable of command-ing, they failed of their object, as they always will fail until the tone of supplication is changed to a tone of command, backed by an organization that will cause it to be obeyed. When this is accomplished, justice will be done to their interests, but hardly before. I trust I have said enough to satisfy every one that any deficit in the revenues of the Postoffice Department, occasioned by a further reduction of the rates of postage, may be supplied by an in-crease of duties on foreign fabrics, and that this may be done, not only with advantage to the inerests subject to competition, but to trade and commerce generally, by protecting them against the recurrence of those disasters which have al-ways followed closely upon the heels of low duties and the inordinate importations which

It appears that the Secretary of the Treasury, on a version of his estimates of revenue for the fiscal a version of his estimates of revenue for the fiscal year of 1860, ending June 80th next, claims that his customs will yield at least $62,400,000, instead of $55,000,000, as he before estimated, and that with other resources he will be able to reimburse or purchase the public debt to the extent of or purchase the public debt to the extent of $7,751,000, without reducing his working balance below $6,000,000 at the end of the year. He has already determined that no Treasury bills falling due after 30th June last will be received, or in any way renewed. The amount then subject to renewal was less than $5,000,000. Since then the Sub-Treasurer in New York, and other parties for the Government, have disposed of about $2,000,000. His revised budget for 1860 is thus presented to provide for all wants of the year—$3,321,000— with a cash balance June 30th, 1859, $4,839,050; Treasury bills, $4,958,000; loan of January 24th, $128,000; together, $10,672,000; customs of the year, $62,400,000; lands and miscellaneous, $4,000,000; total, $77,072,000; leaving a surplus June 30th, 1850, of

But, if the Government will not be wise, and Congress, influenced by party considerations dictated by sectional prejudice, should refuse to enact laws for the protection of such branches of national industry as are engaged in an unequal struggies with foreign competitors, who have advantages derived from cheap capital and wages reduced to a mere subsistence standard, it will become the duty of those whose interests are neglected, to devise a remedy adequate to the correction of the grievance complained of. Such a remedy will be found in an organized league of the suffering inactive, but mostly at auction. ribbons are sold exclusively at auction, and none but the very best styles are firm in price. Railroad Accident .-- Two Men Killed. New York, Sept. 15.—As yesterday afternoon's train from Jersey city to Middletown, on the Eric Railroad, was turning the curve between Hilus and Patterson, two men were discovered walking on the track. They did not heed the ringing of the bell nor the whistle, but their indifference indicated that they supposed themselves on the right track. Before the train could be stopped they were run over. One of them, William Smith, an umbrella vender, was instantly crushed to death. The other, Jaseph Jenkins, of Patterson survived only about an hour. While no blame is attached to any one, it would seem that trains should not run around curves so rapidly as to prevent their being stopped before reaching any object that might happen to be on the track.
